IAC-M-223
20 December 1955

1. Approval of Minutes
13 December Meeting
(IAC-M-222)

Approved, as amended at item 1 to read:

"c. General Samford stated that, based on the experience of the Air Force, he believed that there was merit in the idea of a coordinated community approach. This approach had demonstrated its value in the field of atomic energy intelligence.

"d. Mr. Dulles expressed the view that guided missiles intelligence was national intelligence of the highest priority. A concerted attack on the problem by the community, under the guidance of an IAC guided missiles committee, is therefore essential if he and the community are to discharge their responsibilities under existing NSC directives."

Agreed to hold the next IAC meeting on Thursday, 5 January 1956, at 1430.
